

Intersoft Electronics Group establishes a Services branch in Italy.

Rome, Italy – Intersoft Electronics today announced the establishment of Intersoft Services ITALIA. That fits the strategy to better serve the local markets and expand global presence as a technology and services provider for civil and military CNS systems.

With numerous customers of the Radar Analysis Support System (RASS®), Italy has always been an important country for Intersoft Electronics. For a long time, the company was represented locally by Marco Palladini, a seasoned sales manager and professional engineer. Now, Marco will lead the new Intersoft Services ITALIA branch.

Marco Palladini has 33 years of experience in the aerospace and telecom industries. He held positions ranging from microwave engineering to sales & marketing and management at industry leading organizations. He's looking forward to growing Intersoft Electronics Services in Italy.
